PART 1 – INSTRUCTIONS TO PROPOSERS AND PROPOSAL CONDITIONS

1.1. About IUCN

IUCN is a membership Union uniquely composed of both government and civil society organisations. It provides public, private and non-governmental organisations with the knowledge and tools that enable human progress, economic development and nature conservation to take place together.

Headquartered in Switzerland, IUCN Secretariat comprises around 950 staff in more than 50 countries.

Created in 1948, IUCN is now the world's largest and most diverse environmental network, harnessing the knowledge, resources and reach of more than 1,300 Member organisations and some 10,000 experts. It is a leading provider of conservation data, assessments and analysis. Its broad membership enables IUCN to fill the role of incubator and trusted repository of best practices, tools and international standards.

IUCN provides a neutral space in which diverse stakeholders including governments, NGOs, scientists, businesses, local communities, indigenous peoples organisations and others can work together to forge and implement solutions to environmental challenges and achieve sustainable development.

Working with many partners and supporters, IUCN implements a large and diverse portfolio of conservation projects worldwide. Combining the latest science with the traditional knowledge of local communities, these projects work to reverse habitat loss, restore ecosystems and improve people's well-being.

PART 2 – THE REQUIREMENT

Terms of Reference

International consultancy for the development of an operational plan and supportive activities for the Science Task Force, Decade on Ecosystem Restoration

Location:	Desk-based
Languages required:	English
Starting date:	October 1 st , 2021
Duration of the contract:	Until December 31 st , 2021

Background

The UN General Assembly adopted the UN Decade on Ecosystem Restoration 2021 – 2030 in March 2019. The overarching vision of the Decade is ‘a world where – for the health and wellbeing of all life on earth and that of future generations – we have restored the relationship between humans and nature, by increasing the area of healthy ecosystems, and by putting a stop to their loss and degradation’.¹ This includes ecosystems of all types (terrestrial, marine and freshwater), natural and modified.

IUCN convenes the Science Task Force (STF) for the Decade on behalf of UNEP and FAO. The STF provides an authoritative reference point for the UN Decade on Ecosystem Restoration 2021-2030 as well as offers the scientific backstop for the UN Decade’s Advisory Board and Strategy Group, including through supporting or peer-reviewing the work of other Task Forces (on Best Practice, Finance, Monitoring, and Youth).

The STF will tackle restoration-related issues that are key to unlocking large implementation potential (e.g., how to assess/materialize the benefits of ecosystem restoration) or are potentially controversial (e.g., the role of plantations). While being an integral part of the UN Decade’s operational structure, the STF will maintain its scientific independence.

In 2021 the STF is formed by a group of experts who launched in September 2021 the think piece “Science-based ecosystem restoration for the 2020s and beyond”, which presents recommendations as specific actions to be undertaken by public and private stakeholders to sustain and restore the diverse and functioning ecosystems essential for human wellbeing and the preservation of biodiversity.

The STF in 2022 will be expanded to a larger membership and will need to be adequately structured and ready to be operationalized

Objectives of the consultancy

To elaborate an operational plan for the STF for 2022 onwards, implement membership expansion and other early activities in the remainder of 2021.

Deliverables of the consultancy

A. Operational plan

- Proposed work process: key activities to be implemented to address the issues, create the deliverables and meet the STF’s purpose.
- Team structure for activity and task implementation.

The operational plan will be developed considering points of view collected by the consultant through interviews with key informants to be identified with IUCN, including Decade partners, the members of the Decade Strategic Group and Advisory Board as well as online surveys.

18. GENERAL PROVISIONS

18.1 This Agreement is the complete understanding between IUCN and the Consultant and replaces all other agreements and understandings in reference to the subject matter of this Agreement.

18.2 Any modification or amendment of this Agreement shall be in writing and shall become effective if and when signed by both Parties.

18.3 This Consultancy Agreement is non-exclusive. IUCN is free to consult other experts in the Consultant's field of specialization.

18.4 This Agreement is personal to IUCN and the Consultant, and neither Party may sell, assign or transfer any duties, rights or interests created under this Agreement without the prior written consent of the other.

18.5 Either Party waives all and any rights of set-off against any payments due hereunder and agrees to pay all sums due hereunder regardless of any set-off or cross claim.

18.6 All provisions that logically ought to survive termination of this Agreement shall survive.

This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, each of which shall be deemed to be an original, but all of which, taken together, shall constitute one and the same Agreement. The Parties agree that the signed counterparts may be delivered by e-mail in a ".pdf" format data file or electronic signature (e.g., DocuSign or similar electronic signature technology) and thereafter maintained in electronic form, and that in this case such signature shall create a valid and binding obligation of the party executing with the same force and effect as if such ".pdf" or electronic signature page were an original thereof.
